校長話：了不起

據紐約時報報導，2003年，美國調查全國高中有無增辦何種外語課程，有50間意向增辦俄語課程，175間意向增辦日語，240間意向增辦意大利語，2400間意向增辦漢語。

本年九月起，英國有一間中學Brighton College將會把中文列為必修科，這是英國首間主流中學規定人人學漢語。

目前，世界各國學習中文的有三十萬人；每年有九萬外國學生來華學漢語。

我的一位朋友在香港教洋人學普通話，「學生多到應付不了」。

世界各地文字，以方塊字的漢語為另類，外國人學漢語，能聽能講已經很了不起，能寫作的可說是鳳毛麟角。

劉紹銘教授說：「寫作是訓練思考和分析能力的最佳門徑。」聽、講、讀、寫四項語文技巧之中，以寫最難，寫作能力是皇冠上的明珠。我們學本國的語言，要能寫文章才算合格。能以本國語寫文章，又能以外國語寫文章，十分了不起！這應該是我們共同的努力目標。

4月24日換夏季：

《清河》第九十八期 第二頁 二零零六年四月十日
At the beginning of the school year, I heard the news that a NET teacher was going to be the English teacher of our class. I was quite worried because I was afraid that I would not be able to know what he would say. After some time we all got used to being taught by the NET teacher, Mr. Knill. We became less afraid.

We enjoyed his lessons gradually. However, sometimes we had difficulties in understanding what he said. Then, we began to understand most of his words. Now, we can understand about 80 per cent of what he says. This shows we have improved our English listening skills.

Mr. Knill’s English lessons are not boring, but very interactive and funny! Apart from passage lessons, grammar lessons, writing lessons and listening lessons, we sometimes play some little games, do role-plays at the MPA or in the English Room. We like those games because we can move around to finish the tasks given by Mr. Knill.

Mr. Knill demands that we do not say anything when he is speaking. I think that it is reasonable because we should pay attention in the lessons. Mr. Knill is really a good teacher. He is kind, patient, and he works very hard to teach us. I like him very much!

Mr. Knill is not like other teachers. He always asks us to do role-play activities during English lessons. I think this kind of teaching method is good. It not only gives us more chances to speak in English, but also lets us have lessons in a more relaxing mood.

Mr. Knill also checks our homework carefully and patiently. As he asks us to write free writing every cycle, my writing is getting better. In my free writing, even minor mistakes are always spotted and corrected by him. He is as good as Ms Mok, our English teacher in Form 2.

One clear advantage of having NET teachers is that students are forced to speak English in class. Since we are not allowed to talk in Cantonese, we can now speak English more fluently.

I felt a little bit afraid of him at first because I thought that I could hardly communicate with him. I was not confident enough in speaking English. I am now feeling more confident when I speak to Mr. Knill. The learning atmosphere has become much more interactive and interesting. Mr. Knill always draws on the blackboard to stimulate us to use the new grammar. He gives us a lot of opportunities to practise oral, writing, listening and so on.
The NET Teacher  by Kwan Hiu Tung, Crystal ( F.3 )

Mr. Knill is a very nice teacher. He teaches us extremely patiently. We can ask many questions if we do not understand. Also, he teaches us many other things, which are outside our textbook. Because of this, we can learn many interesting things. He always teaches us in a fun way. Mr. Knill is a great teacher and I enjoy having all his lessons.

Wong Siu Ching in the Eyes of a NET Teacher

外籍教師眼中的王少清中學(March 2006)

By Mr. Mark Knill ( NET Teacher)

Eight months after arriving at Wong Siu Ching, I am doing exam supervision in the Hall with Form 5. I look around at the nervous faces that I have come to know so well from my F5 Oral classes. They remind me of how I felt when I first arrived at that same Hall on Day One and sat on the stage looking out at a sea of unfamiliar faces. I remember counting the number of students until I reached 44- the number of students I would have to teach in one class. After teaching classes no bigger than 25 in NZ I couldn’t believe I was about to take on nearly double that number in one room! How would they all fit? How would I cope!? So much has happened since then…and I’ve loved it!

Mr. Lee’s first message to the students was about being active. Check. This seems to make good sense to me. When I met my classes for the first time, I reiterated his message and added… “You also have to take risks and be prepared to make mistakes…that’s what learning is all about.”

I didn’t know it then but I was about to become a role model for making mistakes and learning from them. Those early days presented many hurdles- mostly related to machines and the weather- and I made my fair share of mistakes trying to jump them! Like turning on fans, (not realizing they would blow my papers everywhere!) like having lessons prepared on my computer in the work room (but not realizing they wouldn’t magically appear in my classroom!), like thinking I wouldn’t need a microphone to help me compete with the noise of air-con.

The list goes on, but what I also hadn’t counted on was the support and help and friendly nature of the staff, the management and the students at this school. I have never felt alone or unassisted and I have learned a huge amount: not only about teaching, but life in Hong Kong and the importance of Human Kindness.

Moving to HK and teaching at Wong Siu Ching was indeed a risk, but one that has been well worth it.
